

Hello you!

I'm giving you this little surprise... anonymously.

Why?

Because I feel you deserve it.

Why am I not telling you who I am?

Because I'm not expecting anything in return.
I don't even need a thank you.

This is pure, mindful giving.
An unconditional act of kindness.
Giving without expectations.

I got the idea through this website:
www.givewithoutexpectations.com

Go and have a look what this fun project is all about.

You might even read my story there.
The story of this gift to you.

If you like, you can share your side of the story as well.

Enjoy!

Love and laughter,
An anonymous friend :)
